No customer left behind

Sanjay Poonen
CEO and President, Cohesity

By combining Cohesity’s scale-out architecture and strong generative AI and security capabilities with Veritas’ broad workload support and significant global footprint, our customers and partners will gain more value from their data than ever. As promised, we’ll remain focused on our “no customer left behind” commitment, supporting existing products from both companies for years to come.”

Our customers will now benefit from the broadest workload support and largest partner ecosystem in the data protection industry.

Industry-leading Innovation

The combined company offers cloud-scale and AI-powered data security, Gen AI-driven insights, an easy-to-use management interface, and a comprehensive multicloud data protection portfolio.

Global scale and support

Our combined team of experts now offers follow-the-sun support, so enterprises will be successful with their Cohesity and Veritas solutions now and into the future.

Advanced AI capabilities

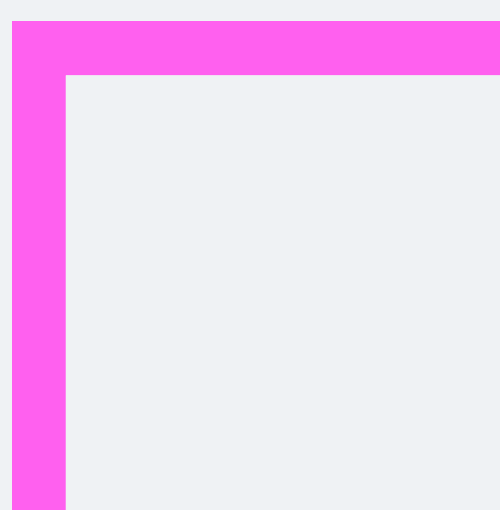

Patent-pending, first-to-market AI capabilities offer Cohesity and Veritas customers tremendous data management, protection, and resilience benefits while helping them gain more value from their data.

Strong partner ecosystem

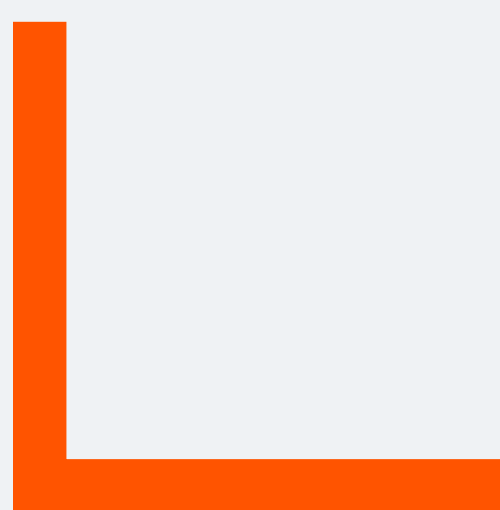

The new Cohesity brings together the largest partner ecosystem in the industry, covering all segments of cloud service providers, security players, VARs, system integrators, and hardware OEMs.
